About Me

With over 12 years experience working in Dubai (UAE), Newcastle (UK), London (UK) and Melbourne (AUS), I have a clear knowledge of user experience and customer journeys. I use responsive design and build stunning online websites, microsites, campaigns, marketing emails, web marketing, Search Engine Optimisation and more.

My passion for everything related to design, web development and photography ensures that I'm flexible and always interested in new opportunities; capable of directing and managing projects: working solo, with other creatives or directly for clients.

Skill Set

Recommendation

Alex is a genuine guy who has great attention to detail and takes pride in the quality of what he does. It was a pleasure to work with Alex for a number of years and see him use his skills to benefit the students and school as a whole. I have seen and been very impressed with the work that Alex has done with his company and I have no doubt Alex will continue to do great things.
